ENLISTED AGENT SELECTION OVERVIEW

The Enlisted Special Agent Selection System is designed to identify and select the most qualified and capable Active Duty Airmen to serve as a Special Agent with the Office of Special Investigations. Armed with elite investigative training and state-of-the-art technology, OSI agents identify, exploit and neutralize criminal, terrorist and intelligence threats to the Department of the Air Force, Department of Defense, and U.S. Government.

ENLISTED AGENT SELECTION SYSTEM

STEP 1 Eligibility

Before officially starting the recruiting process, applicants should determine their eligibility to retrain by visiting their local installation Career Assistance Advisor (CAA). To apply, you must be a SrA-TSgt and not exceed 11 years' time-in-service at the time of application.

Once you have determined initial eligibility, you must send an email to afosi.enlisted.recruiting@us.af.mil to request an initial application. Applications are screened for eligibility prior to continuing the process.

Timeframe: If filled out properly, the initial applicant questionnaire is reviewed within 24 hours of the submission date. Ensuring retraining eligibility with the CAA and on <https://www.osi.af.mil/OSI-Careers/Enlisted/> beforehand can help expedite processing.

STEP 2 Application

Applicants who pass preliminary screening will be provided a list of up to 13 documents that will need to be completed and returned. These documents include items such as EPRs, letter of recommendation, physical fitness history, etc. These documents will then be screened to further assess eligibility and suitability factors.

Timeframe: Applicants will have up to 45 days from the initial email to complete and return all properly filled out documents. Failure to do so may result in termination from the process. Contact the Enlisted recruiting team early if more time is needed.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

- LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION
- AFOSI FORM 61
- AFOSI FORM 84
- AFOSI FORM 87
- AF FORM 422
- DD FORM 2760
- LAST 5 EPR'S
- PT TEST HISTORY
- COPY OF DRIVER'S LICENSE
- COPY OF PASSPORT OR BIRTH CERTIFICATE
- COPY OF SURF
- COPY OF ASVAB SCORES
- EXCEPTION TO POLICY LETTER (IF APPLICABLE)

STEP 3 Screening

Our team will contact the applicants's Career Field Manager (CFM) to secure a conditional release (if applicable), and AFPC will place a code within your file to prevent you from being PCS'd during the rest of the process. Once completed, we will conduct a law enforcement and financial records review to validate previous information that you provided during Step 2.

Timeframe: The average timeframe for Step 3 is approximately 2-3 weeks. This can take longer depending on the responsiveness of the CFM when requesting a conditional release from your career field.

STEP 4 Assessment

Applicants will be scheduled to meet with the closest OSI office to them. During the meeting, we will conduct an in-person interview, complete a writing assessment, and complete a computer based cognitive exam. These items will be evaluated by Special Agents to assess your competitiveness for the Agent Suitability Investigation (ASI).

Timeframe: This process takes approximately 14 days to complete. This timeframe is also dependent on the availability of the applicant to complete the required steps.*

STEP 5 Background Investigation

If selected during Step 4, applicants will undergo a full "Agent Suitability Investigation (ASI)" to determine final suitability for duty as an OSI Special Agent. This step may include interviews with co-workers, supervisors, unit leadership, and others. A final interview will then be scheduled with the OSI detachment commander, or Special Agent in Charge.

If selected for OSI duty following the final interview, you will be scheduled for the next available training date at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center (FLETC).

Timeframe: The average background investigation takes approximately 45 days, but can take more depending on the availability of the applicant or interviewees.*
